The two Anglo-Saxon words, HOLEGN (or HOLYN, a holly bush or tree) and WORþ (or WURþE - pronounced like "worth" - meaning an enclosure or farmstead with a protective wall about it) are said to be the roots which formed the ancient placename HOLYNWORTHE, later HOLLINGWORTH. One or two such places are located north of Manchester, England, in Salford Hundred, another is a modern township in the Parish of Mottram-in-Longdendale, northeast Cheshire, just a few miles to the southeast of Manchester. HOLISURDE (i.e. Hollisworth) of Domesday for Cheshire (c1086) is probably the same place. From this particular place, it is believed that men first took up the name as a sire-name or surname. It is possible that more than one unrelated family took up the name from this place, or from the other places in Lancashire. The earliest documented appearance of the word used as a surname, as observed by us, is in a Charter of the Godley family of Cheshire, signed about the time of Magna Carta (c1215) wherein "TOMAS De HOLINEWURTH" was one of the witnesses. The man may have actually been one of the relatives of the Godleys (De Goddeleigh) then residing "in Holvnworth" and thus using that appellation in his name. It is difficult to say whether the Hollingsworth, Hollingworth, Hollinsworth and Hollinworth families were of Anglo-Saxon, Norman, or Welsh derivation. Their Given names seem to indicate they were Norman: Reignould, Lawrence, Cecily, Roberte; so also does the fact that Hugh Lupus, Earl of Chester, a fat Norman, was the landlord of Mottram! The late Capt. Robert De Hollingeworthe of Hollingworth Hall, claimed that an ancient pedigree of his family placed the family at Mottram in 1022 as holders of the Manor. This source has never been confirmed and is thought to be spurious. In the seventeenth century the spelling with medial s: Hollingsworth, began to be used. It seems to derive from a possessive or genitive idea: "Holling's Worth" or, "The Worth of Mr. Hollings". Contrary to popular ideas, Hollingworth is not "the English form" of this name. Both forms arose in England long before emigration to any other country.

THE QUAKER HOLLINGSWORTHS - III.

BY

JOHN V. HOLLINGSWORTH

In the April Register, I told of Valentine Hollingsworth seeking a certificate of removal from Lurgan Quaker Monthly Meeting, Ireland, for 'himself & also for y^e rest to go with him.' The request was granted on July 25, 1682, and it is probable he sailed within a month. Mary Hollingsworth Jamar, in her "Hollingsworth family," page 5, states, "Albert Cook Myers in his Immigration of Irish Quakers into Pennsylvania (p. 313) states that "Valentine Hollingsworth and his second wife, Anne Calvert, came into Pennsylvania on the 'ANTELOPE,' landing at New Castle, Delaware, Oct. 1, 1682." Dr. Myers reports from a court record, "Samuel Hollingsworth (son of Valentine) deposed that he arrived from Belfast with his father, Valentine Hollingsworth, at New Castle, 8th or 9th, tenth month, 1682, in the ship 'Antelope' of Belfast, Ireland, Edward Cooke, Master." (X)

Dr. Myers does not state the above account (page 313), but in a footnote he refers to a deposition of Samuel, son of Valentine, made before the Mayor of Philadelphia, June 4, 1735, printed in the McFarlon-Stern Genealogy, pp. 58-59. This deposition is slightly contradictory, as in one place he states the date as Oct. 1, 1682, and again, in another place, the date is given as the '8th or 9th of the 10th month, 1682.'

The writer believes that the statement of John Musgrave, an indentured servant of Valentine Hollingsworth's, who came to Pennsylvania with the Hollingsworth family, would probably be more reliable evidence. In Pennsylvania Archives, Second Series, Vol. XVI., page 525, under "Boundary Question," - "John Musgraves aged 73 years (1735), states he came into New Castle county in 1682, and lived in New Castle county four years, well remembers he first saw William Penn in the years 1682 at Robert Wade's house in the town now called Chester in Pennsylvania, where the said William Penn then generally lodged, ... " It appears from this statement that Valentine stayed in Chester for a brief period after arriving from Belfast.

Further evidence that Valentine Hollingsworth and his family lived for a brief time in or near Chester is shown by a minute and a subscription list found on the first page of Concord Monthly Meeting Minute book ...

"At a Monthly Meeting held at Chichester y^e 9th. of y^e 4th. month, 1684, Whereas Thomas Moore came and desired assistance of the meeting to lend him something toward the building of him a house y^e meeting considering his poverty hath agreed to do it and subscribe as followeth ..."

Nine persons contributed, among which were Mоргgin Drewitt and Valentine Hollingsworth. I include Mоргan Drewett, as he later became a prominent member of Valentine's meeting (New Workc).

Edward W. Cooch, in his address given May 23, 1936, at the unvailing of the Hollingsworth Memorial at Newark Burial Ground, Brandywine Hundred, Delaware, (published in Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine, Sept., 1936) states:

"In Biblical times the greatest honor which could be bestowed upon a man was that his descendants should be as the sands of the sea and become a great people, and so it was with Valentine Hollingsworth. Nearly all of the older families of northern Delaware can trace their ancestry to him. His descendants, numbered by the thousands, have spread from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and have become prominent in almost every form of human endeavor.

"Mary Hollingsworth, eldest child of Valentine was born in Ireland. She was married there to Thomas Conway or Connaway. They came to Delaware with Valentine and settled near him in Brandywine Hundred. Conway died in 1689 leaving her with three very young daughters. Four years later she and Randall Malin (or Malin) laid their intentions of marriage before the Newark Meeting. Mary Sharpley and Cassandra Druitt were appointed to inquire concerning Mary's clearness. But the rights of a widow's children must be secured before she may re-marry, so Malin promised to pay for their use six pounds (£6.0.0) before the first day of the next month. Mary's brother, Thomas Hollingsworth, promised to pay £ 4. (four pounds) for the purpose, and Mary herself set aside 'one mare and her increase,' leaving the mare in her brother's custody. Thus with about forty-five dollars in cash, together with the mare and her future colts, the rights of the three girls were properly secured, and their mother became the wife of Randall Malin. It is said that he became a Quaker minister, and that they moved within the limits of Goshen Meeting.

"Henry Hollingsworth, the second child of Valentine, also born in Ireland, came to America a year later than his father. He came on the ship "Lion of Liverpool," working his way as a redemptioner to Robert Turner. He was assigned two hundred acres of Valentine's original grant. After living there five years his heart still longed for Lydia Atkinson, the girl who was waiting for him back in Ireland. In 1688 we find him applying for a certificate from Newark Meeting, showing his clearness. Armed with this he took the long trip back where he and Lydia were married. The original marriage certificate is in possession of Malcolm R. Gilpin of Elkton. Shortly after their return to America, Henry entered a career of public service which extended into three states. He assisted Thomas Holmes in laying out the City of Philadelphia. He was deputy surveyor for Chester County as well as the town of Newcastle. While deputy for Chester County he laid out thirty thousand acres for Penn's children, William & Lotitia. This survey included all of the present township of New Garden, and the greater part of Kennett with several thousand acres in the northern part of New Castle County. He was sheriff, coroner and clerk of the Courts of Chester County and represented New Castle County in the Provincial Assembly. He removed to Cecil County, Maryland, about 1712, and was shortly appointed by Lord Baltimore surveyor for that county. His son Zebulon in 1735 purchased "The Landing" property near the junction of the big and little Elk Rivers. This property is still in possession of his descendants. Henry's children became associated with old St. Mary Ann's Episcopal Church at North East, Maryland. Others later became Presbyterians.

"Thomas Hollingsworth, the third child was born in Ireland. After coming to New Castle County, he settled on his share of Valentine's original grant now owned by the Weldin family, but soon moved to the west side of the Brandywine, where in 1687 he became one of the organizers of Center Meeting. A warrant was issued to him in 1701 for four hundred acres on the west side of the Brandywine, a plot of which, surveyed by his brother Henry, appears in the Book of Surveys, page 268. This tract seems to have been located in the vicinity of Guyencourt and to have included the property of Mrs. William G. Ramsey. When building her residence on this property, Mrs. Ramsey incorporated therein an old log cabin, with its fireplace, oven, and woodwork in their original simplicity. According to tradition this cabin was the home of Thomas Hollingsworth. Like his father and brothers, Thomas was a member of the Provincial Assembly. His son Abraham moved to near Winchester, Virginia. During a visit to his son in 1733, Thomas is said to have been killed by a buffalo, while on a hunting expedition near North Mountain.

"Katheran Hollingsworth, the fourth child, was born in Ireland, and came to Delaware with her father. She was married at his house in 1688 to "Big George Robinson. An interesting story is told of their courtship. It states that she was a beautiful Quaker maiden, and became the pride of the settlement. George was of the Church of England, and finally admitted that his desire to become a Quaker was for the love of Katheran. Friends counseled delay. A year later, under her instructions, he became a true convert, and they were permitted to begin a long and happy married life. (Heirlooms in Miniature, by Ann Hollingsworth Wharton.) The minutes of Newark Meeting confirm the story in that "friends not having perfect unity desires their waiting till friends are better satisfied concerning them." But the records fail to mention her beauty or his religious beliefs.

"Robinson settled on the east side of Shellpot Creek opposite the Hollingsworth tract. Later he purchased Valentine's shore of the original grant. (1726, Deed Record H-1-53.) His grandson, Charles Robinson, in 1785, sold two hundred and fifty acres of the latter to Gunning Bedford who is designated in the deed as attorney at law.

"Samuel Hollingsworth, the fifth child of Valentine Hollingsworth, and first by his second wife, Ann Calvert, was born in Ireland. He married Hannah Harlan, daughter of George & Elizabeth Harlan. He lived in Birmingham Township, and held several important offices, viz, justice of the peace for Chester County, & representative in the Provincial Assembly. Many years later these two names were again associated in the Harlan & Hollingsworth Company, ship & car builders of Wilmington.

"The remaining children of Valentine and Ann Calvert were, 6th, Enoch, who died at the age of twelve; 7th, Valentine Hollingsworth, Junior, who married Elizabeth Heald; 8th, Ann Hollingsworth, who married James Thompson; 9th, John Hollingsworth, the first to be born in New Castle County, who married Catherine Tyler; 10th, Joseph Hollingsworth, and 11th, Enoch Hollingsworth, the second, who died in infancy."

The above quote of Edward W. Cooch is given with the full permission of the copyright owner, Mr. Edward W. Cooch, Jr., Newark, Delaware. Mr. Cooch in his address briefly mentions the courtship of Katherine Hollingsworth and "Big George" Robinson. Miss Wharton in her "Heirlooms in Miniatures" beautifully tells of the courtship: "A quaint old Delaware story is told of the wooing and winning of Katherine Hollingsworth, daughter of Valentine Hollingsworth, one of those who accompanied Penn and settled upon the banks of the picturesque Brandywine. Katherine Hollingsworth, 'a lovely, beautiful and delectable Quaker maiden,' as she was called, became the bride and delight of the little settlement.

"Of the young men who sought her love, big George Robinson alone found favor in her eyes, and she promised to be his wife; but George was of the Church of England, and Katherine 'must be married in Meeting.' George was willing to join the Society, to be a Friend, and be married in Meeting or anywhere else Katherine said; accordingly he and Katherine made their first declaration 5th day, 1st Mo., 1688.

"The older Friends had 'scruples' and fearing that George's very sudden Conversion was not from conviction, they asked him this searching question: 'Friend Robinson, dost thou join the Society of Friends from conviction, or for the love of Katherine Hollingsworth?'

"George hesitated; he was in a dilemma. He did want to marry his dear Kather-give, and, bracing himself up for a valiant answer, he said, 'I wish to join the Society for the love of Katherine Hollingsworth.'

"The Friends consulted and counseled 'delay' and that Friend Robinson should be gently, persuasively, and instructively dealt with.

"Katherine naturally proved the most successful of teachers in this extremity. In a year George was ready to join the Society as a true convert. We read that 'He and Katherine were permitted to begin a long and happy married life together', being, as the old manuscript says, 'For many years an example of Piety and Goodness to those around them, and retaining their Love of Truth and Loyalty to the Society to the last.'"

Now let us return to Henry Hollingsworth, who, as stated, came to America in 1683, sailed back to Ireland in 1688, and, August 22 of that year, married Lydia Atkinson of the Parish of Segoe, Co. Armagh, of which he was a native, & returned with her to America and settled at Chester, Pennsylvania.

"Whereas Henry Hollingsworth of Pennsylvania in the county of New Castle in America & Lydia Atkinson in y^e Parish of Segoe and County of Armagh in Ireland having declared their intention of Marriage with each other in the several public Meetings of the People of God called Quakers at or near Lurgan in the Province of Ulster, whose proceedings after a deliberate Consideration they with consent of Parents and Relations concerned they being clear from all others, were approved of by the sd Meeting. Now these are to certify all whom it may concern that for the full accomplishment of theirsd intentions the 22 of the sixth month 1688 the sd Henry Hollingsworth and the sd Lydia Atkinson appeared in a public & Solomne Meeting of the said People met together to worship God in their public meeting-house at John Robsons, Where the said Henry Hollingsworth according to the Example of the Holy men of God recorded in the Scriptures of Truth taking the sd Lydia Atkinson by the hand did solomnly Declare followeth (Viz) In the name of God & Presence of his people did take Lydia Atkinson to be my wife; And then and there in that Assembly the Sd Lydia Atkinson did declare as followeth (Viz) In the feare of God & presence of his people I take Henry Hollingsworth to be my Husband & give myself to be his wife; And as a further confirmation thereof, the Sd Henry Hollingsworth & the Sd Lydia Atkinson did then and there before these presence Subscribe their Names as Husband & wife. We whose names are under written being present wch more at the solemnizing of their said Marriage and Subscription as afore Sd As witnesses hereunto have set our hands the Day & Yeare above written.

HEARTH MONEY ROLLS, 1664, COUNTY ARMAUGH, IRELAND

In the fire of June, 1922, which destroyed the great record room at Four Courts, Dublin, Ireland, during the Irish Civil War, all the original Hearth Money Rolls for all Ireland were destroyed. Luckily, copies had been made for private use, of several of the years, including County Armagh, 1664. Since many of the names found in the Quaker records also are found in this roll, we present the list for the two parishes of Shankill and Seagoe, in the north eastern part of Co. Armagh. We omit the tax figures and the hearth figures, to save space. However, unless otherwise shown, the tax of 2 shillings for 1 hearth is meant.

FREDERICK HOLLINGSWORTH FAMILY - PART THREE

JACOB² HOLLINGSWORTH, second child of Frederick¹ & Elizabeth (Brown) Hollingsworth, was born June 5, 1842, in Cherry Valley township, Winnebago County, Illinois, U.S.A.; died July 23, 1917, at Newton, Jasper County, Iowa, at 11:55 AM of heart disease, aged 75 years, 1 month, 18 days. He is buried in Newton Union Cemetery.

He married (1) Feb. 21, 1870, Kellogg, Jasper Co., Iowa, MRS. ANN ELIZABETH (CASTNER) HAMBRICK, (widow of Frank Hambrick), eldest child of Stewart McClaine & Mary (Hildebrandt) Castner, natives of Hunterdon Co., New Jersey. She was born in 1843, in School District No. 5, Lebanon tp., Hunterdon Co., N.J.; died February __, 1884, in Richland township, Jasper County, near Grinnell, Iowa, aged 41 years; She is buried in Bethel Cemetery, south-east of Kellogg, without a marker. The lot owner was George Castner, her brother. Issue 1 child by this marriage, and 2 by her former marriage to Frank Hambrick. (See below)

Jacob Hollingsworth married (2) Oct. 24, 1887, Newton, Iowa, and again on May 23, 1901, Green Bay, Brown Co., Wisconsin, (They had been divorced for a time and re-married) MRS. GEORGIA M. (TITMUS) HOBLETT, (widow of James Hoblett) daughter of William & Sarah (Pig) Titmus, natives of Virginia. She was born Aug. 19, 1856, at Norfolk, Norfolk co., Virginia; died Feb. 23, 1915, at Newton, Iowa, aged 58 years; buried beside her husband. Issue 3 children by this marriage.

Jacob² Hollingsworth received a common school education at Cherry Valley, Illinois. He followed farming the greater portion of his life. He accompanied his parents to Iowa in 1864, at the age of 22. They settled in Independence township, (which was near the town of Rhodes, in Marshall county) Jasper county. Not many years later, Stewart M. Castner and his family came to live near Newton. He was a wagon maker by trade, and had lived near Princeton, Bureau county, Illinois, for a number of years. It is believed, but not proven, that Frank Hambrick, the first husband of Ann E., (or "Lizzie") Hambrick Hollingsworth, was killed in the War of the Rebellion, 1861-1865. She was a widow with two small children when they arrived in Iowa. Stewart (sometimes called "Steward") Castner had a huge family of his own, and it was not long till the young widow met and married Jacob Hollingsworth. They had one child, Jacob Ellerton Hollingsworth. The editor had the privilege of corresponding with Jacob E. Hollingsworth, who lived to be 94. But neither Jacob nor any other in the family or acquaintances, knew the reason for the "Ellerton".

In 1876, Jacob purchased, from Sarah Mendenhall, a friend of the family, 160 acres in Section 1, Richland township. He paid $1,800.00 for this farm. It was near the road from Kellogg to Grinnell. In those days, both towns were new, but growing fast. (Deed Book 85, p. 466, S.W. Quarter, Section 1, Twp. 79 North, Range 17 West of 5th Meridian, filed Newton County Recorder Sept. 29, 1876.) He sold 1/2 of this to one of his wife's relatives, F. Hildebrandt, who joined him in partnership on the farm. (Book 99, p. 588, Book 114, p. 265, ibid.) Still later, in 1880, the family purchased 40 acres in Section 2, near the home farm, for $600.00. (Book 114, p. 264. N.W. Quarter of S.W. Quarter, Sec. 2, Twp. 79N, R 17 W. 5 P.M. Recorded Mar 13, 1880.) The tragic death of Lizzie was soon followed by the sale of all the above property and the splitting up of the family.

Mary (Hambrick) Farr removed to Alma, Nebraska, about 1885. Soon after, Jacob E.³ Hollingsworth went to live with them. That was in 1886. He never returned. He later lived out his life in Ottawa, Kansas, raising a family of 3 children. Mary Farr died recently in Colorado at the age of 95! So it was that Jacob² Hollingsworth was left alone to begin a new life. His step-son Fred Hambrick took the name of Hollingsworth; but he too, moved away to New York not many years after the death of his mother. Jacob moved into Newton, Iowa, where he met the widow, Mrs. Hoblett. She had two young daughters, Iva Pearl and Leota Hoblett. (The last named is still living in California, at this writing, now married to O. W. Kinley.) Jacob gave up farming for the life of a teamster. He joined the crews who built Jasper County's first roads. He wore a long beard, and it must have been striking to see him swinging a pick or shovel with this great beard blowing in the breeze. While on respites, however, he would make trips into the country to trap small fur-bearing animals. Mr. Sam Costner, of New Sharon, in Mahaska County, Iowa, remembered a visit by Jacob Hollingsworth during one of the trapping expeditions, about 1910, accompanied by his step son, Fred, who was on a visit from New York. (Samuel Costner was a half brother of Lizzie Hollingsworth.) Incidentally, Stewart McClaine Costner lived to the advanced age of 100 years and 14 days! He was born in 1820 and died in 1920 at New Sharon, Iowa. He served in the Illinois Volunteers, War of the Rebellion. It was from him, most emphatically, that the great longevity inherent in this particular line, came.

After having three children, Jacob² Hollingsworth had a falling out with his wife Georgia. But, on a trip to Green Bay, Wisconsin, where they lived for a time, at the home of Samuel² Hollingsworth his brother, he made up with her, and they were re-married. (The editor found the record of their second marriage, and it was a very perplexing thing until the mystery was explained by Samuel's last living child, in Green Bay.) They returned to Iowa, and lived out long lives in mutual love and contentment.

As a point of interest, it was upon the old farm in Highland township, the home of Jacob² Hollingsworth and his first wife, that Annie Hollingsworth, his niece, about whom we have spoken before, met her "new mother," Mrs. Sarah Hoover. As we explained in a previous installment, Edward & Rachel Hollingsworth were divorced in 1880. So, as Edward was financially unable to care for all his children, he allowed one of his children to be raised by his mother. Little Annie, however, stayed with her father until 1884. At that time, she was visiting the farm of Jacob her uncle, and Mrs. Sarah (Figley) Hoover was there. Mrs. Hoover was a native of Ashland County, Ohio, daughter of Jacob Figley & Sarah Springer. Her husband, Samuel Hoover, had only recently dropped dead on his farm near Grinnell. So Mrs. Hoover was all alone. Upon seeing tiny Annie Hollingsworth (who never reached much over 5 feet 2 inches in adulthood) she snatched her into her arms and said, "I wish I had a little one like you!" Edward Hollingsworth heard it, and he signed the adoption papers, consenting to let her go to Ohio with Mrs. Hoover. But Annie never forgot this kindness on her father's part (she loved Mrs. Hoover), and, 11 years later, returned to be with her real parents. She was especially fond of her father, but seldom spoke of her mother - feeling that it was Rachel's fault for the division in the home because of her violent "Scotch-Irish" temper.

As the older generations died, contacts were broken. This was the last time Annie saw "Little Jacob," (Jacob Ellerton³ son of Jacob & Lizzie) but she recited this incident to the editor on his last visit to her in 1960. Not long after, Jacob was found to be alive (but Annie had died), and he confirmed the episode! So, although Annie was 85 when the editor heard her tell this story, it proved absolutely true in every respect, both by confirmation of witnesses and records! A memory which spanned 77 years!

As we stated before, Frederick¹ Hollingsworth made gifts of expensive violins to each of "the four Hollingsworth boys," Edward, Jacob, Samuel & Wallace. The one given to Jacob² was a "Hoff." None of his children knew what became of it, but Madge³ his youngest child said he often played it, and rather well.

Of the four sons, Jacob lived the longest. He was not ill much during his life, and only took to his bed shortly before death claimed him. He died upon the day, ironically enough, upon which, 47 years later, his daughter Madge was killed with her husband Matthew Sladek, in a highway accident. Their deaths, on July 23, 1964, occurred only a few miles from the original farm of her father, south west of Grinnell!

Jacob's funeral was conducted in Newton Cemetery by Reverend R. B. Fisher, Pastor of the Christian (Disciples of Christ) Church at Newton.

REJECTED. Application dated Aug. 18, 1845, in Pickens District, South Carolina. Elias Hollingsworth, resident of same, then aged 81 years, applied under the Act of June 7, 1832. He thought he served in 1781, Capt. Daniel Duff, serving as Quarter Master. Believed it to have been 51 days service. Other officers: Major Farr & Colonel Brandon. Had a 2nd tour of six months, under same officers. Stated that he had resided in Union County, South Carolina, when he entered the service, but was in no battle. Marched from Brown's creek to Grindall's Shoals and there joined General Morgan's Camp and crossed Broad River at the mouth of Bullock's Creek, through Chesterfield District and much through that part of the State. He stated he was infirm and faulty in memory and education. Swore he was not on roll of any Agency "except that of the State of South Carolina." Signed "E." his mark.

Affidavit of William G. Mullinix, Clergyman of Pickens District, & Silas Kirksey, of same, certify veracity of the applicant.

Following Interrogations were propounded to Elias and he swears as follows:

- (1) Where and in what year were you born? (Answer) In Loudon County, Virginia, in 1763.
- (2) Have you any record of your age? (Answer) No.
- (3) Where were you living when called into the service? (Answer) Union District, on Broad River.
- (3b) Where have you lived since? (Answer) Then to Newberry District and now in Pickens District.
- (7) State names of persons to whom you are known in your present neighborhood: (Answer) Mr. J. W. L. Keith & Gen. F. N. Gavvin, Pickens C.H., Col. T. J. Pickens, Rev. W. G. Mullenix, E. B. Benson, Esq., and F. Burt, Esq., Pendleton District, S.C. Signed William L. Keith, Clerk of the Court of Pickens District, South Carolina.

Joseph M. Jackson (an old and highly respectable citizen of Union District) swore that he knew Elias H. during the Revolutionary War. He recollected that AQUILLA HOLLINGSWORTH, brother to Elias, was killed by the side of this deponent at Cow Pens, and that Elias' father "was with this deponent during a considerable portion of the war; and they were all good Whigs and soldiers, and afterwards good, honest, respectable citizens, and no one who knows Elias Hollingsworth could doubt his statement." Sworn Apr. 1, 1845. But, albeit, the claim denied!

(This Elias appears to be the son of Elias⁴, and wife Susannah Pierce Hollingsworth, (of Jacob³, Thomas², of Valentine¹ (the Quaker) of Henry^A.) They had children, Aquilla, Mary or Mergy, Benjamin & Naomi. They took a certificate of removal from Kennett Meeting of Quakers in Chester Co., Pennsylvania, dated May 17, 1763, and presented it May 26, 1764, to Fairfax Meeting, Loudoun Co., Virginia. They brought "4 small children," the four named above. They were later given a certificate to Wateree Meeting, near Fredericksburg, South Carolina, on June 28, 1766. Although Elias Junior's name doesn't appear on either of these certificates, it is our conviction that he was a babe in arms, having been born while the family stopped in Loudoun county, Virginia. The books of records of Wateree Meeting are lost! Otherwise, many mysteries about these Hollingsworths would not be mysteries. But Bush River Meeting books, covering territory nearby, show the disownments of the children, "Equille" (Aquila), Elias, and Benjamin, all given as "sons of Elias." Elias⁴ Sr., himself was disowned, as it appears from same records. (See page 21, April Register.) We also learn of the death of "Mary, wife of Elias Hollingsworth, April 15, 1789 aged 39," (p. 22) and conclude that she probably was this soldier's wife. This is not proved. The South Carolina Archives Department, 1430 Senate St., Columbia, S.C. 29201, have records of Accounts of men named Aquilla, Benjamin, Elias, Isaac, Jephtha, Joseph & Zebulon Hollingsworth in their keeping. Copies of all papers cost $17.50 if you want them. Mostly they consist of accounts for Revolutionary Military duty. The accounts for Elias prove the truth of his above statements. He had a pension with the state of South Carolina. This probably had something to do with the rejection of his U.S. Pension application. Unfortunately, we have no record of children of this Elias. He died in 1849. His Estate probated that year by W.S. Williams.

(2) S - 8729. HOLLINGSWORTH, HENRY. North Carolina.

GRANTED. Certificate 23,542 issued Feb. 28, 1834. Applied May 21, 1833, in Sampson Co., North Carolina. He stated his birth was in Duplin Co., (now Sampson) North Carolina, Aug. 18, 1757. His service was as a private in 1775 for 3 months under Capt. Wm. Dickson in the Regiment of Col. James Menan, Duplin County Militia. Served again in 1777 under Capt. David Dodd's Militia. In 1778 and 1779 he again served similar tours. He is called "Henry Hollingsworth, Sr." He died Nov. 11, 1840. His wife's name Elizabeth. Their children Fanny, born July 1, 1778; married Mr. Bass; Zebulon, born June 29, 1781; Leonard or Lynnard, born July 28, 1783, died before 1836; Elizabeth, born June 5, 1785, unmarried in 1836; Henry Jr., born May 1, 1793, and Guilford, Nov. 7, 1795. Another child, Nancy, born between Zebulon and Leonard, (name partially torn from old Bible record page included in the file), married Mr. Ballard. Alive in 1836 at time her father wrote his will on Feb. 23 of that year and proved in Nov., 1840, Sampson Co. N.C. (See Abstracts of Sampson Co., N.C. Wills, by Core Bass.)

REJECTED. Application at Clinton, Anderson Co., Tennessee, Nov. 5, 1838. Also Nov. 4, 1839. His age given as "upwards of eighty years." Applied under Act of 1832. Stated he entered service at Wilmington, Pennsylvania, in 1777, "the same year the Battle of Brandywine was fought," served under Capt. Logan, or Hogan, for two months, "was marched down Delaware Bay and then taken to within 20 miles of Philadelphia city." Discharged at Philadelphia. Stated he was dangerously wounded by the enemy's bayonet, and by a Dragoon's sword. Stated he lost his discharge certificate "some years ago" when he lost the pocket book it was kept in. Claims that George Washington himself was one of those who signed it! Shortly after the end of the war he "removed from the state of Pennsylvania to the state of South Carolina and was then in affluent circumstances," but since then had fallen into misfortune and poverty and "has been reduced to wretched & distressed circumstances, etc."

Signed John C. Hollingsworth

Enoch Foster & Richard Andrews, both Justices of the Peace, witnesses, William Cross, Clerk of the County Court, Anderson County, Tennessee, Officiated.

We think this Jacob Hollingsworth, (who emigrated from Pennsylvania to South Carolina shortly after the close of the Revolutionary War, and much later to Anderson County, Tennessee), "upwards of 80 years in 1838," to be Jacob⁴ the brother of Elias⁴ who married Susannah Pierce - hence, an uncle to the above Elias Hollingsworth Pension R - 5152. If this is true, then he was born in 1741, and was nearly ninety when he applied for the pension in Tennessee. Stewart's "Descendants of Valentine Hollingsworth, Sr.," on page 109, simply states that Jacob Hollingsworth was born in 1741, the fourth child of Jacob³ and Elizabeth (Candler) Hollingsworth. His later removal to South Carolina suggests the connection with this pension applicant. He is probably one of the two Jacobs found in Union County, S.C. according to the 1790 Census. (See pp. 90 & 92, Union County, and page 17 of the Register.) He was probably disowned for taking up arms in the Revolution, in his Meeting in Pennsylvania.

GRANTED. This Applicant appeared 21 Aug., 1834, before Joseph Arey, Justice of the Peace, Cumberland Co., North Carolina, signed with his mark "O" as "Stephen Hollingsworth, Senior." He stated he served a tour of six months under Capt. William Harding's Co. attached to Col. Robinson's Regiment, in spring and summer of 1777, and in others. One tour, the winter or early spring of 1778, he states "his father, JOHN HOLLINGSWORTH was called into service for three months, which tour affiant performed as his substitute in Capt. Peter Roberson's Company." He served another tour after this.

Sampson Davis, a witness, appeared Aug. 4, 1834, in Bladen Co., North Carolina, stating he was well acquainted with Stephen Hollingsworth of Cumberland Co. and knew him during the Revolutionary War and was with him six months at Jumping Run under Wm. Haudin, Capt., and Col. Roberson, 3 months at Caswell's Camps, "and that the said Hollingsworth served that term faithfully as a soldier." This soldier was enrolled as Certificate holder # 30,596, N.C. issued Apr. 29, 1836, receiving arrears to the 4th March, 1836, of $200.00, and semi-annual allowance ending Sept. 4, 1836, $20.00. Book E, volume 672, page 59.

The true identity and connection of this Stephen Hollingsworth "Sr." and his father, John Hollingsworth both of Cumberland County, North Carolina is not known. In fact, their presence presents a complication which threatens to wreak havoc with some of the long established ideas and family trees as shown in the J. A. Stewart book! So we will leave speculation for a later day. If you happen to know who he is, let us know!

(5) W - 5301. HOLLINGSWORTH, ZEBULON or ZEBEDEE. North Carolina.

GRANTED. This Applicant appeared in Sampson Co., N.C. Nov. 20, 1833. He enlisted in Duplin Co., same state, in fall of 1775, private in Capt. Wm. Dickson's Co., Col. James Kenon's Regiment. (Menan?) Enlisted again in 1781 3 months. His wife was Elizabeth. He married her January, 1784. Her date of birth was Feb. 27, 1767. Zetulon or Zebedee died Apr. 22, 1836 and widow applied for a pension from Sampson County on Aug. 22, 1839. Their children were Eve, born June 10, 1786; Jenny, born Sept. 21, 1788; Polly or Mary, born April, 1791; Henry, born Dec. 25, 1796, and Ann, born January 13, 1799.

(We hope to present abstracts of Pension applications for ALL Hollingsworths for all wars! If you have files (Confederate or Union, Civil War; War 1812, or Indian Wars, etc.) let us know. Send the files or send an abstract so we can complete this helpful series!)

NOTE: Mr. Noel Hollingsworth, Mexia, Texas, has kindly sent us copies of these very helpful documents. He is trying to connect his line in Union County, South Carolina, with the older generations. His ancestor, James Daniel Hollingsworth, born in South Carolina Apr. 12, 1822, moved to Benton (now Calhoun) County, in Alabama, about 1848 or 1849. His son Daniel Burton Hollingsworth, was born Oct. 16, 1862, and was the father of our correspondent. Daniel's older brother, Robert Asberry Hollingsworth, a soldier in the Confederate Army, Co. E, 30th Alabama Regiment, was born Apr. 15, 1843, in "Union County, South Carolina." If any of you have further data on the brothers, or parents, of James Daniel, let us know.

SEVENTEENTH CENTURY CHRONOLOGY OF AMERICAN HOLLINGSWORTHS

This is an attempt to bring "under one roof" all the data we possess as to the first data about the first settlers in America, of our surname. See the reference tables to follow.

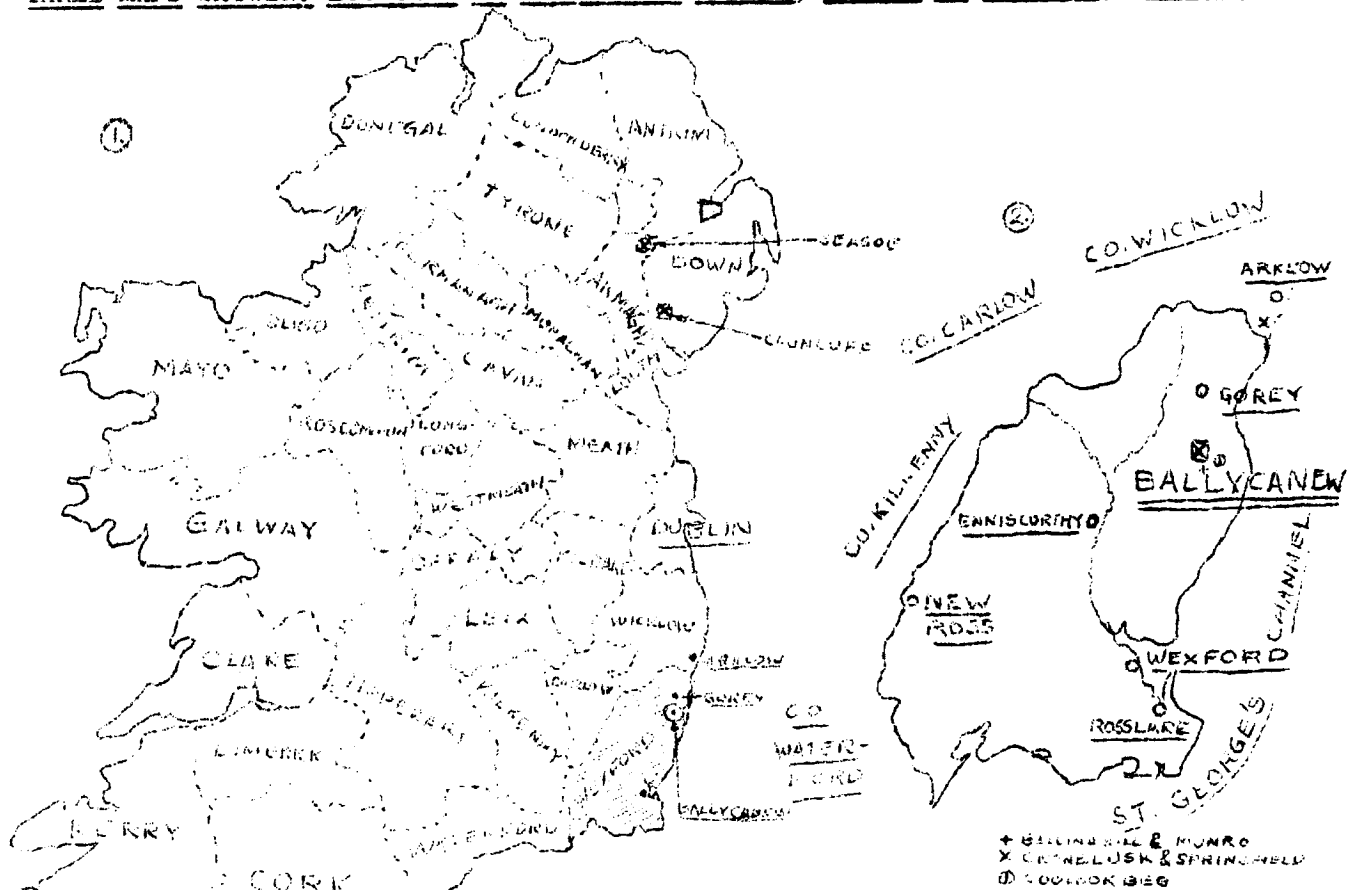

1. 1635 May 2. EDWARD HALLINGWORTH, aged 46, set sail in the ship "alexander," Capt. Gilbert Grimes, Master, from "y^e Port of London," bound for the Island of Barbados. In the passenger list also was a "David Collingworth," aged 22. This is the earliest record of the surname to be found in the Western Hemisphere, of which we are presently aware. So Edward has the privilege (possibly only temporarily) of being "first" Hollingsworth in America, although there is no indication he came to the mainland. Barbados is an island in the Lesser Antilles chain, s.e. of Cuba. It has been a British Possession since about 1605.
2. 1635 July 13. RIC. HALLINGWORTH, aged 40, wife Suzan, 30, & children William 7, Ric^r, 4, Eliz. 3, & Suzan 2, set sail from London in the ship "Blessing" bound for New England, John Lester, Master. There were 25 other passengers, each bringing a certificate of conformity in the English Church. He was a shipwright. He settled at Salem, Massachusetts. Descendants lived there, and later, the fifth generation lived at Fairfield, Connecticut after 1820. (See Register, July, p. 63 No. 1.)

3. 1638 July 28. JOHN HOLLINGSWORTH, & Sarah, his wife, were mentioned in a petition of Thomas Wallis, "Practitioner of Physicke," who had transported them to James City County, Virginia, with 12 other persons. Wallis claimed land as his right for the service. We find nothing more of the Hollingsworths, although they may have connections with John in Calvert County, Maryland, in 1665. This is the first appearance of our surname with the letter "S" added. In fact, it is very early for such an appearance, even in England!
4. 1649 JOHN HOLLINGSWORTH, mentioned in connection with lands in Talbot County, Maryland. He probably is the same man who was brought to Maryland by William Eltonhead, a professional transporter. (Eltonhead and his uncle, Edward Eltonhead, were both executed not long afterward.) John was a cow keeper to Mrs. Eltonhead (Jane) and Wm. Eltonhead, on Jan. 24, 1652, claimed 400 acres of land in return for his transportation of John Hollingsworth "two years since." He assigned this land to "Henry Cope, or Cass." Court records of 1658 show John was then 19 years, or, born about 1639, and hence, only ten upon arrival in America. Later generations from John's three sons, John, Thomas & William, went to North Carolina, Tennessee and Idaho.
5. 1657 April 16. CHARLES HOLLINGSWORTH, born 1639, was on this date mentioned in the petition of Lieut. Col. Edward Douglass, for 600 acres of land in Northampton County, Virginia, which he demanded for the services. He had brought Charles, with 12 others, probably from England, but no date of the arrival is stated. Although there seems to be no further record of Charles Hollingsworth (only a cursory search has been made) in Northampton Co., Virginia, he is probably the same Charles who appears in 1675 in Talbot County, Maryland. There are reasons to believe this Maryland Charles was related to John, (No. 4.) above described. Northampton County, Va., is the only Virginia county which is located "on the Eastern Shore" peninsula on which Talbot Co., Maryland is also situated, not many miles northward.
6. 1658 Feb. 23. WILLIAM HOLLINGSWORTH & RICHARD HOLLINGSWORTH, their names appearing on petitions to the Maryland government as of this date. The name of William Hollingsworth appears again in another draft which asked for his right to trade with the Indian savages, Jan. 16, 1659. The request was granted Jan. 28th. Apr. 20, 1661, this same man was involved in an Indian attack, and he wrote a letter asking for assistance in the troubles. The letter was written from "Sande Poynte," in Delaware Bay, and he is styled as "of Newe England." (Incidentally, another record, dated, oddly enough, 26 Feb., 1658/9, in Lancaster County, Virginia, shows "Willm. Hollingsworth, mariner, being attorney for Mr. Willm. Brown, of Salem, ..." the record signed "Will Hollingsworth," leads us to think that this William in Maryland & Virginia, and this Richard likewise, were two of the children of Richard Hollingsworth of Salem in Massachusetts (See No. 2 above).) Although there may be identification between these men and Richard Hollingsworth of Massachusetts, we haven't yet found proof. Records seem to indicate that Richard's sons, Richard and William, were mariners. Yet there are testamentary proceedings in 1708 and 1709, in Queen Anne's County, Maryland, for men of these names. That was long after the deaths of the New England men. (William of Salem died 1667, Richard of Salem died 1683.) As an interesting sidelight: This New England family of Hollingsworth is one which, as the years passed, began to spell the name "Hollingsworth," until the later descendants used this form exclusively!

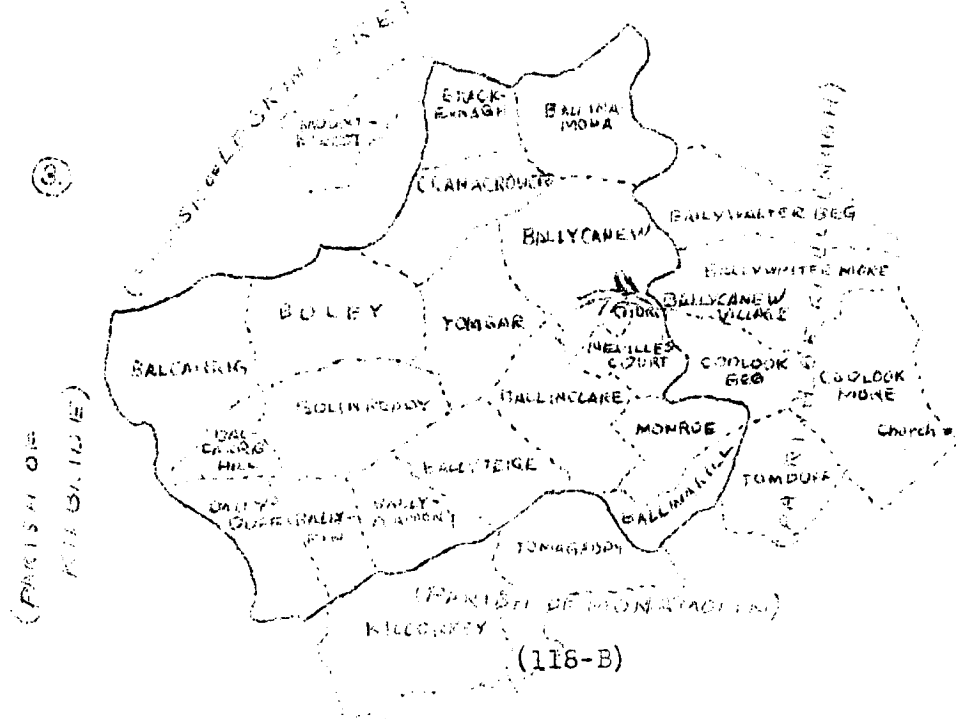

7. 1665 February 18. JOHN HOLLINGSWORTH, of Calvert County, Maryland, upon that day, with James Shacklady & Robert Day as witnesses to the instrument, assigned to George Richardson a warrant of 150 acres of Land which was originally warranted to Gabriel Golden, deceased, whose widow John had married. There seems to be no connection between this John, who was on "the Western Shore" with the John in Talbot County on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. This is not established as fact, however. The volume "Americana" (see table of references below) is our authority for the distinction between the two.
8. 1678 "HEN. HOLLINGSWORTH," was listed in the Tithables or Taxables, of Surry County, Virginia, that year. His name is not in the 1674 list. In the 1683 list for Lawnes Creek Parish, Surry County, he appears again as "Henry Hollingsworth," "by Henry Clarke." The list of June 10, 1694 gives him as "Henry Hollingsworth," but the Virginia Quit Rent Roll of 1704 shows him as "Henry Hollingsworth," with 60 acres of land in Surry County. For a while we confused him with Henry, the son of Valentine, the Quaker. But we know that this Henry didn't come to America until 1683, and, upon doing so, remained in Delaware and Maryland. There may be connection between this Henry and John & Sarah who came to James City County, in 1638. Surry County was carved out of James City in 1652.
9. 1680 RALPH HOLLINGSWORTH is listed in an assessment of lands and slaves in the Island of Barbados, this year. He is assessed for 10 acres of land, and 5 Negroes. His dwelling was in the Parish of St. Michael's. Owing to the fact that Barbados records are not within our reach at present, we cannot say more about him.
10. 1682 October-December (?) VALENTINE HOLLINGSWORTH arrived, probably between these dates, from Belfast, Ireland, supposedly in the "Antelope," Mr. Edward Cooke, Master. (See page 97.) So Valentine was apparently the TENTH immigrant to bear the name to America! This might surprise some, who insist he is the "ancestor of all the Hollingsworths and first one in America." As we have given his family so much space already, we refer you to other sections of the "Register," to read more about him.
11. 1687 November 9. ISAAC HOLLINGSWORTH & wife Joanna (probably the daughter of Francis Holland) were named in the will, bearing that date, of Francis Holland, of Herring Creek, Anne Arundel County, Maryland. At the time, Joanna was "with child," and so we assume the couple were rather youthful. The actual arrival date of Isaac Hollingsworth might have been many years before. There is a Testamentary proceeding, dated 1730, for an Isaac, perhaps the same man, in Queen Anne's County, Maryland. This might suggest a relationship to John of the same county.
12. 1695 October 30. GEORGE HOLLINGSWORTH, on this date, received Warrants for two tracts of land, (one for 250 acres; another for 150 acres), both in Baltimore County, Maryland, on the North side of Patapsco River in Patapsco Hundred. The names "Brothers' Expectation," and "Brothers' Unity" were given to them. This may be a clue that his brother was not far away. His name appears in the Tax list for this region in 1699. His will, with date of January, 1702, proved March 25, 1703, names sons George Jr., Otho, Charles, James, John & Francis, and daughter Hannah; wife is unnamed. The first four above named received the "Brothers' Unity" tract. With a family of this size, we might expect to meet his descendants widely scattered over the country today. Perhaps some have been confused for those of Valentine Hollingsworth the Quaker.

Thus we have 11, or perhaps 13 Hollingsworth-Hollingsworths in America before 1700!

generated into a religious war, due to the leadings of two men, rather John Murphy of Kilcornuck Parish and his brother Michael, Priest of Ballycanew Catholic Parish, who took up the banner and led their men against the local Protestant citizens, rather than against the British rulers. On their march northward from Vinegar Hill to Arklow in Co. Wicklow, they plundered and burnt all the houses and fields belonging to the Protestants. Our Hollingsworths lost much property. There have been unproven stories that a Hollingsworth - direct ancestor of the editor - died in the awful massacre of over 200 Protestant men, women and babies, (none of them military personnel) in "Scullabogue House & Barn" near New Ross on June 5, 1798. Whether or not this is true, those who lost any property were obliged to put in Compensation Claims for it, and its value. We have two indexes preserved. The original claims were in the Four Courts where they had been transferred from the Irish Parliament, when the fire of 1922 destroyed them. They show thousands of names and addresses of mostly Protestant householders from north of Arklow as far south as Enniscorthy in County Wexford, at the time of the Rising to after 1800. Musgrave's "Memoirs of the Different Rebellions in Ireland," (1801, Dublin) lists hundreds more who put in claims and affidavits (also lost) as widows and orphans of those who died. We present this "census" as far as it concerns our clan, referring to both series. (See Map on page 118-B)

"CONNECTIVE RECORDS"

They are the type of records, whatever nature, deeds, wills, tax records, which yield names and relationships - especially the latter - of members of a family. Here is an example, the best we have. Refer to pp. 40 & 51 for more details.

"April 14th, 1836 - State of Indiana) Sct.
Laporte County)

"Be it known that on the fourteenth day of April in the year of our Lord Nighteen hundred and thirty six, a marriage license was issued to Frederick HOLLINGSWORTH & Elizabeth BROWN, both of LaPorte County, he of lawful age, and she by her father's verbal consent (Jacob Brown).

"Witness -

Wm. Hawkins, Clerk LCC."

No marriage was ever certified of the above licence. But the obituary of Elizabeth in 1892 showed she married Frederick 3 days after above license issued - April 17th, 1836. Note the insertion of the name of her father, "Jacob Brown." Had this not appeared in the record, it would have been legally impossible to connect her to him, because they moved around so much, and she was his only child by his deceased first wife.

"TO THE COUNTY JUDGE OF JASPER COUNTY, IOWA:

"The Petition of Elizabeth HOLLINGSWORTH of the County of Jasper, respectfully sheweth that Frederick HOLLINGSWORTH, late of said County of Jasper, about the 2d day of February, 1869, died intestate, having at the time of his decease, personal Property in this state, which may be lost or diminished in value if care be not taken of the same.

"Your Petitioner, therefore, Asks, that Elizabeth Hollingsworth of Jasper County, Iowa, may be appointed Administratrix of the Estate of said deceased; and petitioner believes that the personal Property of said Estate amounts to less than five hundred Dollars.

"Office of County Judge) of the County of Jasper (S.S:

"Be it remembered, that on this 9th day of April, 1869, the above named Petitioner appeared before me, the Clerk of the Circuit Court of said County, and made oath that the matters set forth in the above Petition, by her subscribed, were true, to the best of her knowledge, information and belief.

APPRAISER'S ESTIMATE

"We, the undersigned, appraisers appointed under the foregoing commission do certify the following to be a true list of the personal property set off and allowed the widow and minor children of said deceased, as directed by law -

"one reaper	$50.00
One braking plow	12.00
One Staring Plow	9.00
One harrow	2.25
Dulle shovle corn plow	5.00
Teen harnis and wagon	250.00
	$328.00

APPRAISER'S BILL

"Estate of Frederick HOLLINGSWORTH, Deceased..."

"STATE OF IOWA)
JASPER COUNTY) IN CIRCUIT COURT -

"An appraisement of the goods, chattels, and personal estate of (Frederick Hollingsworth), late of said county, deceased, so far as the same have come to our sight and knowledge, which appraisement has been made by us by virtue of the annexed warrant from the Circuit Court of said county, we having been first duly sworn as required by law:

"Quit claim deed of ten acres of timber land	$50.00
"Amount of personal property	$328.00
Total:	$378.00

"Certified by us, this 29th day of April, A.D. 1869...

"J. W. Johnson)
"Peter Halter) APPRAISERS."
"L. A. Wicker)

The above estate is the only source of the exact date of death of Frederick Hollingsworth. His grave or his marker have never been located. Also note that the names and ages of all his heirs are given.

Following deeds in Jasper County, abstracts, show what was indicated by the "10 acres of timber land." ...

(3) Deed Record Book 43, page 355, Jasper Co., Iowa, John C. Wilson, Recorder

April 10, 1868 Grantor: Wm. L. Johnston and Sarah A. Johnston, his wife.
Grantee: Frederick HOLLINGSWORTH, Marshall Co., Iowa

Sum: $50.00

Location of land: North East quarter of the South East Quarter of the South West quarter, Section No. 1, Township 81 North, Range 21 West of the Fifth Principal Meridian, Iowa, containing 10 acres more or less, in Jasper County.

(4) Deed Record Book 60, page 330, Jasper Co., Iowa. C. W. Chinn, Recorder.

April 29, 1872 Grantors: Elizabeth Hollingsworth, Wallace Hollingsworth, E.E. Hollingsworth & Rachel Hollingsworth; Jacob Hollingsworth & Lizzie Hollingsworth, Samuel Hollingsworth & Fidelia Hollingsworth.

Location of land: North east quarter of the South east quarter of the South west quarter of Section # 1, Township 81 North of Range 21 West of the 5th Principal Meridian, Iowa, (containing 10 acres, more or less.)"

Sum: $65.00"

So it can be seen that the land bought by "Frederick Hollingsworth of Marshall County, Iowa," in 1868 was the same which was devolved to his widow and heirs, by the appraisement and settlement of his estate in April, 1869, and which was later sold, as above, by all the heirs mutually, his widow, four sons, and the wives of the three oldest sons also being mentioned. This type of record collecting is called "Connective Genealogical Data," and should never be overlooked! To be sure, it is tedious, time-consuming, and doubtless "boreing" sometimes, but it is legal proof. Such legal proof is the rare thing in a genealogical search. We of Frederick's descendants are lucky to find such records. We only wish the same were true for the rest of the Hollingsworths in America, and for us with respect to Frederick's ancestors in Ireland!

Thank to Hubert Starr, Los Angeles, California, whose eyes are better than those of y^e Editor!

OUR HOLLINGSWORTH FAMILY IN AMERICA

By Jane Hollingsworth, Salt Lake City, Utah

John Hollingsworth, the progenitor of our family in America, was born about 1639 in England, and died in Kent Co., Maryland, in 1698. On the 7th of October, 1658, we find that John, then aged 19, or thereabouts, was cow keeper "unto Mrs. Eltonhead." Other records show he was transported to Maryland by William Eltonhead, her husband, a professional transporter of people to the colonies.

John Hollingsworth, a planter, became the owner of many acres of land, buying and selling. Deeds recorded by him and his wife Jane: On May 4, 1663, he presented a warrant for 300 acres to be renewed "wch sd is lost," he having made oath "y^e warrant was never assigned or legally made over by himself or any other." Again, on Oct. 5, 1663, John filed on fifty acres called "The Beach," in Talbot County, Maryland. On Apr. 20, 1678, Ralph Davidson and wife Labell deeded to John Hollingsworth, all parcel of land called "Amnthorp," "in y^e east side of Chester River." On Nov. 14, 1678 Robert Hankshaw, of Talbot County, Md., planter, deeded to John Hollingsworth, planter, for the sum of "seven hundred pounds of tobacco," a parcel of land called "Collins Lost" on Chester River, Talbot County, containing 50 acres. On March 15, 1680-81, John and wife, Jane, of Talbot County, deeded to one Thomas Cermen of the same place, for the sum of 1200 lbs.

of tobacco, a certain tract of land containing fifty acres, being in Talbot County, part of three hundred acres of the same, formerly belonging to Alexander Manfield. The witnesses were Joseph Wainwright and Jonas Greenwood. John and Jane Hollingsworth signed with their respective marks.

In the year 1683 John Hollingsworth, of Talbot County, received a warrant for one hundred and fifty acres of land called "Fox Harbour," now in Queen Anne's County, Maryland. In February of the same year he and his wife sold the same to William Carroll for the sum of "Three Thousand ffive hundred pounds of good tobacco." It lay on the south side of Chester River, on the branch of Deableton's Creek.

The last deed that I have been able to find was dated 15 June, 1686 in which he and wife Jane deeded to William Hemsley, of Talbot County, for four thousand pounds of good tobacco, the tract called "Jerusalem," lying on the south side of Chester River, containing 300 acres.

The last will and testament of John Hollingsworth was dated 23 April, 1698. It does not mention his wife; evidently she preceded him in death. It appoints three men whom I have always believed were his sons-in-law, as Executors. It states that his land is to be divided equally between his sons, "John, William and Thomas Hollingsworth," and the personal estate to be divided equally between his sons and daughters. The daughters were not named. Witnesses were Nicholas Cloud, John Shephard and Dennis Carty. John Hollingsworth Jr. purchased his brothers' share of their inheritance of their father's estate and remained in Talbot County, Maryland. Thomas purchased a tract of land known as "Forrest Lodge" from Patrick Forrest in 1735. He married first Miss Margaret Wells, prior to 1712 and he married second, the widow Fowler, who was Miss Levania Jarman before her first marriage.

The man of our interest, William Hollingsworth, was born in Queen Anne's Co., Maryland; the many references I have searched are as follows: Annapolis, Md., Land Office "List of Early Settlers in Maryland, Land Office," Volume AB H, p. 276. "Land Warrants," Vol. VII., p. 235; Vol. VIII., pp. 117-18; Vol. XXI., p. 230; "Maryland Archives," Vol. XLI., pp. 175, 252, 504; Vol. XXIX., p. 110. "Talbot County Deeds," Vol. I., pp. 51, 72, 129-34; Vol. III., p. 278. Rent Rolls of Calvert County, Maryland, or Calvert Papers, No. 881 (1658-1742), pp. 18, 25, 215, 235, etc. William followed in his father's footsteps and became a planter. He also owned many acres of land, buying and selling. One tract known as "Solomon's Friendship" now lies in Queen Anne's County. Another purchase for 100 acres, in 1707, by warrant, for "The Beginning." Also in 1724 he purchased another tract known as "Refuge," originally in Talbot, but now in Queen Anne's County. The home where he lived and where his family was born and raised was originally in Talbot County, but the division of the counties caused search in Kent, Talbot, Queen Anne's and Calvert counties' records.

William Hollingsworth was in Kent County, Md. when one John Ponder sold him a tract of land called "Shephard's Forrest" for 7000 lbs. of tobacco. William married Sarah, daughter of William Boulton. In 1720, he and Sarah sold to Thomas Slanton, a planter of Queen Anne's County, a tract called "The Forrest of Sherwood." The payment was made in "ye Sum of four thousand pounds of Good Sound Merchandise Tobacco."

The children of William & Sarah (Boulton) Hollingsworth were, Isaac, born about 1706 and died about 1751; married Rosanna _____; Vincent Hollingsworth (my line) born about 1707/8 died 1744; married Mary Herbert, daughter of William Herbert; Mary Ann (married a Mr. _____ Stone), and John, born about 1712 - all born in Queen Anne's County, Maryland.

The will of William Hollingsworth was dated 23 Oct., 1733 in Queen Anne's County, Maryland and probated 24 Sept., 1739, leaving his wife Sarah as Executrix, and to her his personal and real estate during her life or until she married again; sons - Isaac (this son moved into North Carolina), John & Vincent, and daughter Mary Ann Stone. The will of William Boulton identifies his son-in-law William Hollingsworth. He also mentions the children of his daughter, Sarah Hollingsworth, by her second marriage. She had married Mr. Goulding when she made final statement of the settlement of the Hollingsworth estate. She and Mr. Goulding were the parents of four children.

My interest lies in Vincent Hollingsworth. He married Mary Herbert 31 Aug., 1733 in St. Luke's Parish. Their children were: John, Allen, Vincent, Junior. (See Queen Anne's County Inventories, Vol. X., C P P 328-29. Administration bonds, File 1742-54 & 1755-65.) Allen Hollingsworth, my progenitor, was born 23 May, 1737 & died at his home plantation on the road between Church Hill and Chestertown in January, 1815. On 3 March, 1765, Allen Hollingsworth deeded to William Ruth, same county, for £5.15.0, part of a tract of land called "The Beginning," which had been assigned to his grandfather, William Hollingsworth, in 1707. This deed wasn't recorded until 1767. From that period on, until 1808, I have located eight land transactions, such as "Tom's Fancy Enlarged," "Tom's Fancy," "Davies Range," "Compulsion," "Refuge," "Haphazard," "Bishopton," "Tilghman's Chance" and "Hollings Lott", etc., for Allen Hollingsworth. His will was dated Nov. 9, 1814, and Probated Feb. 11, 1815, in Queen Anne's County. He mentions "my son John, daughter Ruth Coleman, (wife of James Coleman), and her son George Hollingsworth (?); wife Margaret Hollingsworth, Grand daughter Henriette James; Grand sons John & Wesley Hollingsworth, sons of Abel Hollingsworth, deceased; daughter Sally Wilcocks; Samuel Lalls and Harricott his wife (sic), Betsy and Charles Wilcocks, children of daughter Sally Wilcocks. Son John Hollingsworth Executor, Witnesses Samuel Burgess, William Baxter & John Baxter. Signed Allen Hollingsworth.

Allen Hollingsworth was married twice. His first wife Mary died when the children were babies and his second wife Margaret Reed raised the family. She was dearly beloved by the children - so much so that the children referred to her as Mother, and cared for her in her sunset years after their father had passed on.

Sally Hollingsworth married Daniel Wilcox; the John Hollingsworth line, and the Wilcox families moved to the beautiful state of Texas.

Our Abel Hollingsworth died quite young, he was born about 1769 at Centerville, Queen Anne's County, Maryland. He married Sarah Pender, the daughter of William Pender, 12 Aug., 1797. Their children's names were John, Henrietta, and our William Wesley Hollingsworth who was named in his grandfather's will. Henrietta married a Mr. James and remained in Maryland. William Wesley migrated to Virginia, Kentucky, and on to Claiborne County, Tennessee. He married Mahala Jane Stennett, daughter of William Stennett and Mary Dubarry. William Wesley & Mahala Hollingsworth were the parents of twelve children, all born at New Tazewell, Claiborne Co., Tennessee. The tenth son was our progenitor. Two sons were Baptist ministers. William Wesley Hollingsworth wanted to serve his country so badly that when war came he reduced his age and joined the U.S. Army at Flat Lick, Kentucky, 19 February, 1862 as private, for three years, and served under Col. Carter, Co. "H," of Tennessee Volunteers. He was discharged at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, honorably, because of advanced age!

Many years of research has been spent on this family. I have been assisted by many fine people interested in family history. I hope to receive mail from the posterity of this Maryland line of Hollingsworths.

A MARYLAND COLLECTION

This collection of HOLLINGSWORTH references was gleaned by the editor, July 14, 1965, in the published materials of the Maryland Collection, Genealogy Section, Los Angeles Rufus B. VonKleinsmid Central Public Library. Miss Jane Hollingsworth contributed her collection of abstracts from the Parish Register of Joppa & St. George, Baltimore Co., Maryland. Only a minority of the references below deal with descendants of Valentine Hollingsworth. It is the editor's conviction that many of the lines descending from these early Maryland settlers have been mistakenly connected to the descendants of Valentine Hollingsworth.

THE ARMS OF HOLLINGSWORTH - PART TWO

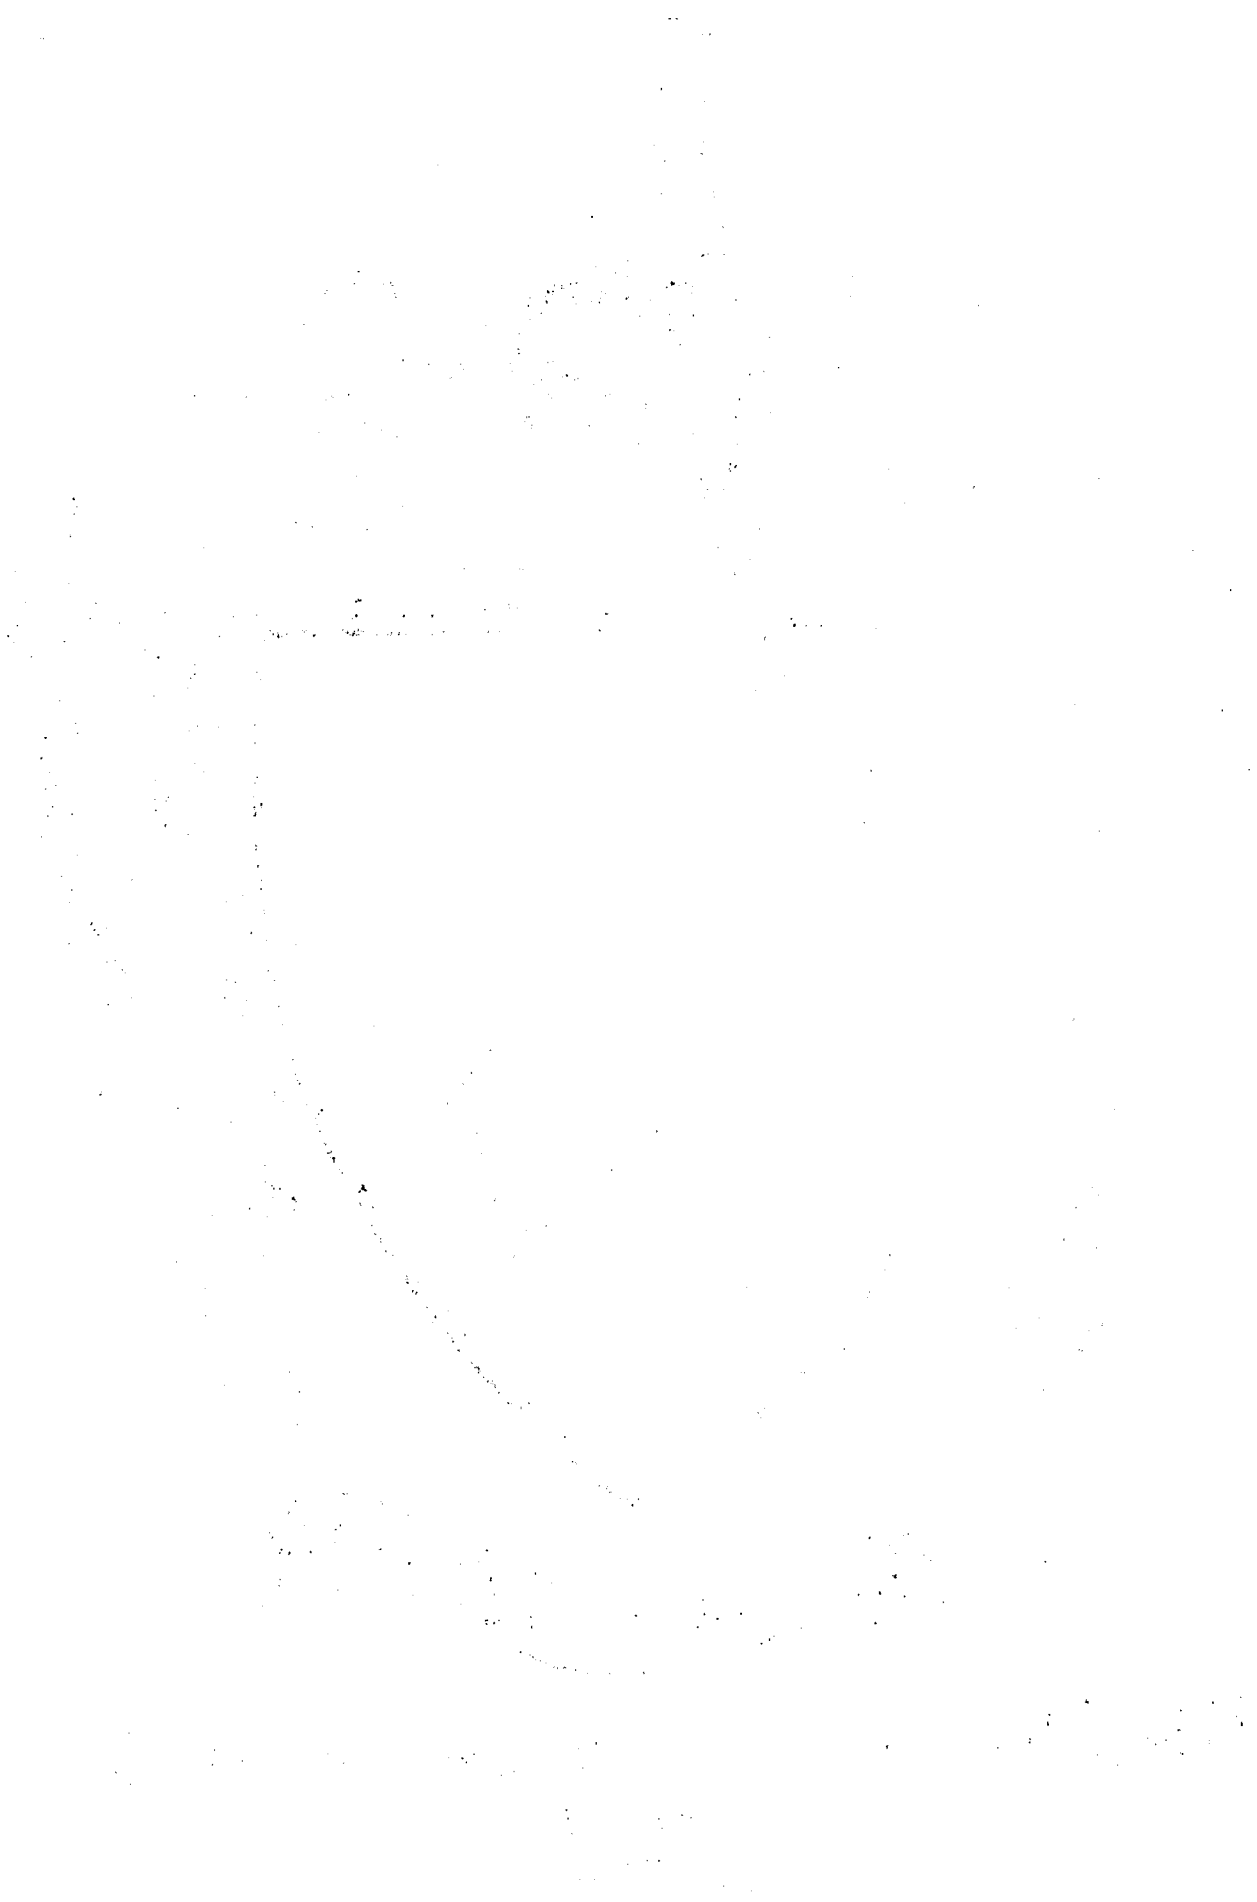

We could not do better than to quote in full, some of the text of the work, "The History of the County Palatine & City of Chester," (England) by George Ormerod, Esq., LL.D., F.R.S.; F.S.A. (Three Volumes, 1882). The work is unsurpassed until now, and usually relied upon by later writers. But even Ormerod made quotations or allusions to remarks made by Sir Peter Leycester, who had written a history of the shire as early as 1673, as follows: "Historical Antiquities in Two Books, The First Treating in General of Great Britain & Ireland, the Second Containing Particular Remarks Concerning Cheshire," by Sir Peter Leycester, Baronet. (London, 1673; Printed by W. L. for Robert Clavell in Cross-Key Court in Little Britain.) Some title! But it is also a very authoritative work, and a copy of it is in the Library of the California Society, Sons of the Revolution, in Los Angeles. The editor has availed himself of these two works, and a third, for compilation of this series. The third is "East Cheshire Past & Present," (1886) by John P. Earwaker, (2 volumes.) (We must note that the notations used in our inside cover for April and July, and in the April register text, quoting "History of East Cheshire," were erroneous. The above is the correct binder's and printer's title.) As this series continues, we will cite (1) Sir Peter Leycester, (2) Dr. Ormerod, and (3) Earwaker, for sake of brevity, in referring to these works.

It appears, in a careful examination of the text of the Domesday Book for Cheshire, that the oldest mention of our surname is in that work. The original Domesday is in the Public Record Office, Chancery Lane, London, W.C.2, England. It was taken in Latin. The purpose of such a survey was for examination of the whole country of England which had only lately come under the rule of William of Normandy. Lands were surveyed to their original or new owners, and given various rates for taxation purposes. Some of the names of places seem to have been given in Latin, and others transliterated from the Saxon. Leycester gives the entire Cheshire text, and it is annotated by him, where spelling became obscure. On page 403 of Leycester, the survey begins under "In Hamestan Hundred," and cites the names of "Maxfield, Adlington, Govesworth, etc." Govesworth is given under the citation "Govesurde." Moving on, we then find citation of "Tingtweesle, (Tengestivisie,) Hollinworth, (Holisurde)," etc. Leycester registers no doubt whatever in supposing that the place we know now as "Hollingsworth," but which was "Hollinworth" in his day, was, in the Latin text of Domesday, given as "HOLISURDE." (Again, in previous issues of this quarterly, we misprinted this name. The above is the correct rendering.) Note that he cites "Govesurde" as the place later called "Govesworth," as he does "Holisurde - Hollinworth." The suffix "Worth" appears to be rendered as "URDE" in Latin. But the sound of this name in Latin doesn't seem to us to imply a Latin flavor. It seems more to be an old Saxon sound. But this editor is not qualified to go much farther on this subject. If this supposition is correct, then the word "Holisurde" is actually the most ancient form of our name - then applied, of course, only to a place in the wastelands assigned to the Earl of Chester. If so, Holisurde would probably be pronounced with a definite German sound - "HOLL-ESS-OOR-DEM," with emphasis on the 3d syllable. Note that the sound of the sibilant "S" appears here! One authority explains the name as "HOLLIM" - 'a holly bush,' and "WORTH" - 'a fenced enclosure.' It would be interesting to know whether our surname is really of true British origin (dating back before the Christian Era when the Britons came to the Isles with their cousins, the ancestors of the Irish, etc.,) or if it is of SAXON origin - with more ancient roots in Saxony, a part of Germany! At any rate, it is not of Norman origin, for Domesday was made in the latter part of the 11th century, and Hamestan Hundred was in existence before that.

HOLLINGWORTH OF HOLLINGWORTH HALL

PLATE TWO

Leycester indicates, (p. 426) that the phrase 'Isceam Gamel tenet Motre, Pater ejus tenuit,' etc. refers to Motraa, which would be Mottram-in-Longdendale the parish which now includes the township of Hollingworth. We examined the part of the Survey (p. 435) under "In Salford Hundred," to see if mention would be made of "the other Hollinworth," but none was noted. The city of Manchester, by the way, is rendered as "Maignecestre." The Parish of Rochdale, where the Co. Lancaster Hollinworth is located, is rendered "Recedham," according to this authority.

Now, let us move on to Ormerod. In his Volume III., pages 869-71, he devotes much space to the Township of Hollingworth, in Macclesfield Hundred. (Note that "Holisurde" was in Hameston Hundred, at least, in the eleventh century!) We now quote in full, several highly enlightening paragraphs.

"Sir Peter Leycester supposes this township to be the "Holisurde" of Domesday, which is included in the description of the wasted lands then held by the earl, but previously held by eight free men as manors. It had been rated at one virgate. Hollingworth was afterwards a dependency of the earl's great lordship of Longdendale, and by the general Inquest, 16 Edw. III., is found to be held by John de Holynworth from the lordship (then the property of John Lovell), and to be worth Cs. per ann. Previous to this, 19 Edw. II., John de Holynworth obtained from Henry Payn, chaplain, the manor of Holynworth cum pert. for his life, then to John his son and Aeria his wife, and their heirs. This family had been seated here at least as early as the reign of king John (A.D. 1199-1216- Ed.), and appears to have terminated in one branch, in an heir female before 17 Edw. I. (A.D. 1289) when Roger Booth, and Petronell his wife, gave to Roger de Hyde, and Margery his wife, their whole land (in) Holynworth, which came to them by descent from William, son of Robert de Holynworth.

"8 Edward III. (A.D. 1335) John de Holynworth, and Aeria his wife, before named, obtain by fine of Thomas, son of John de Honford, and Cristian his wife, the manor of Holynworth. Plea Rolls, 7&8 E. III. m. 17. 3 Hen. IV. (A.D. 1402) John de Holynworth occurs as one of the commissioners in this hundred for the collection of a subsidy. Recog. Ro. 3 & 4 H. IV. m. 7. 11 Hen. IV. (1410) Joan, widow of Thomas de Holynworth, sues Hugh de Holynworth for dower of 3 messuages, 200 acres of land, 20 of meadow, 40 of wood, 100 of pasture, and 80 of turbary. Plea Ro. m. 21, and 12 H. IV. m. 9d.

"There was, as presently shown, another family here of the name, who are supposed to have branched out of the parent house about this period, or a little later, and from whom it is difficult with these fragaentary evidences to distinguish the elder line. But as all the evidence has relation to the township, it is given here as it occurs.

"8 Hen. V. (1421) John de Holynworth enters into a recog. for 20s. to Robert de Hope. 11 Edw. IV. (1472) Reginald Holynworth (grandson of John), occurs with his sureties Thomas Ashton, Edward Holt, and Ralph Maynwarving, in a recog. to the king in £ 100. to keep the peace towards John Selvester. In 1469, he again occurs, as collector of a subsidy. 19 Hen VII. (1504) John Holynworthe (who must be of the younger house), was with Edw. Pitton, esq. and others, appointed collector of a subsidy for Macclesfield hundred. He also seems to be the person who, as John Holynworth of Holynworth, was exempted from serving on juries, &c. 14 Hen. VIII. (1543) 29 Hen. VIII. (1538) Joan Holynworth, son of Reginald Holynworth, suffers a recovery by William, son and heir app. of Alex. Radcliff, and Robert Cleyden, of a messuage and 378 acres in Mottram in Longdendale. (Plea Rolls) This estate, and the following one, it is highly probable belonged to the junior line.) 32 Eliz. (1590) Robt. Hollinworth, gent. passed over this manor, 7 messuages, 7 gardens, and 200 acres of land; and 42 Eliz. Reginald Hollinpassed over the same, with 20 messuages here and in Matley.

"The further descent of the reputed mesne manor is given from title deeds: In 1662 Francis (who appears to have been brother of John Hollingworth) executed deeds to make a tenant of the praecipe for suffering a recovery of the manor of Hollingworth, &c. the uses whereof were limited in strict settlement on said Francis and his issue in tail male, with remainder to Arthur Hollingworth (son of Arthur Hollingworth) in fee. In 1675 Arthur Hollingworth, on his marriage with Annabella Buckeridge, limited the manor of Hollingworth &c. in strict settlement on himself and issue in tail male, with remainder to himself in fee. In April, 1703, Arthur, son and heir of the last named Arthur, executed deeds to make a tenant to the praecipe for suffering a recovery of said manor, the uses whereof were declared by said deeds. In May, 1703, Annabella Hollingworth, Jacob Hollingworth & George Hollingworth, and Gwynnett Freeman, and Elizabeth his wife, executed deeds being a settlement of said manor to certain uses therein mentioned.

"In March, 1706, Jacob Hollingworth executed deeds for suffering a recovery of said manor of Hollingworth, &c. In April, 1707, Jacob Hollingworth, on his marriage with Mary Leigh, settled the manor &c. In April, 1734, Jacob, son of the last named Jacob Hollingworth, sold the manor of Hollingworth, the manor-house and demesne &c. to Daniel Whittle, gent. Daniel Whittle, the purchaser, made his will in 1755, and in 1756 his son John appears to be in possession. In Nov., 1792, John Whittle made his will, devising the manor of Hollingworth, &c. to his brother Daniel and his issue, which Daniel died leaving a son and daughter, living and minors in 1811. By lease and release, 29 & 30 Sept., 1811, the rev. Daniel Whittle (son of the preceding owner, who died in 1802), and others, conveyed the manor to Robert Hollingworth, Esq., -son and heir of Thomas Robert Hollingworth esq. who by original evidences which have passed with the estate appears to have descended from the former lords of Hollingworth. Robert Hollingworth was a capt. in the 6th Dragoon Guards, and dep. Lieut. for this county, and resided for many years at the hall, which it was his intention to enlarge, and convert into a considerable residence. By will, dated 31 Aug., 1832, captain de Hollyngworthe, the purchaser (who had assumed the ancient form of his surname, and long afterwards died, viz. on 31 Jan. 1865), devised the manor to his brother, Dennis Hollingworth, esq. who by deed of 24 Oct. 1866, conveyed it to John Taylor, esq. of Bootn-Hall, Blackley. The estate attached is now 600 acres and upwards, and is bounded on the north and east by several reservoirs, that supply Ashton and Manchester with water. Mr. Taylor (who died in Feb. last, 1881), in April, 1880, passed the manor and estate, by devise, with power over the fee, to Henry Taylor, esq. of Manchester, who has since expended considerable sums upon it, and permanently improved the hall, which he occupies as an occasional residence."

The above, then, is a "History of Hollingworth Hall," in Mottram, Cheshire. We leave subsequent episodes of this series to detail the pedigrees, registers, and other histories.

The accompanying "PLATE TWO" is an illustration (without tinctures we are sorry to say) of the coat of arms which Ormerod assigns to the "Junior" family, which bore the crest "A hart lodged proper." The "Senior" branch, above described, bore the shield but not the crest. The proof of this is that, the carved representation of the coat of arms which formerly was above the entrance to the hall (before it was demolished), and which is now at Cadiz, Ohio, U.S.A. owned by a descendant of Valentine Hollingsworth the Quaker, bears no crest - simply the familiar shield with the charge of a bend and three holly leaves.

THE ULSTER PLANTATION

The discovery of "Henry Hollinworth" upon the estate of Richard Cope & Mr. Obbins, in the Muster roll of Oneiland Barony, Co. Armagh, Ireland, in 1631, has precipitated a huge search. We have contacted the Public Record Offices in Belfast, London & Dublin; the Armagh Libraries, the Armagh Museum, the British Museum, and some private individuals, such as a History major in the University of Londonderry, Ireland, hoping to get specific information on this man. The most we have been able to get to date is a "general knowledge" of the Ulster Plantation," which we pass on to our readers. But, before doing so, we must say that the muster proves that Valentine Hollingsworth Sr. was born where the Quaker record books, (Lurgan Meeting) County Armagh, say he was born. The plantation of the Obbins estate was what is now known as Portadown, and is the place where the Rector of Seagoe Parish receives his mail. Seagoe Parish, then, was also the home of Henry, the father of Valentine. Henry, therefore, was one of the English or British company of "planters" brought over between 1609 - 1630, by the "Undertakers," the landed gentry, who had received patents on the land. Henry Hollinworth was born in England. Of that we may be reasonably certain. He was mustered with a sword and caliver; others with pikes and snaphances. The caliver was a "calibrated" gun, for which it was possible to manufacture a common supply of bullets, like all modern guns. The snaphance was a primitive Dutch fire-lock, like a whole series of such guns, fired by the spark of a flint-stone.

Brief History of the Plantation

All during the reign of Elizabeth I. of England, troubles with "Her Majesty's subjects in Ireland" was continuous. When James VI. of Scotland, son of Mary, Queen of Scots, cousin to Elizabeth and heir to the throne, became the new monarch, (as James I. of England) in 1603, the troubles continued. The Earls of Tyrone and Tyrconnel, great land-holders under their Irish rulerships as Chieftains of the "O'NEALS," (although they bore English titles also), fled to Rome, Italy, in 1607, by night, leaving all their goods behind. It was said that a letter which implied that James was going to arrest them for treason, caused the flight. The counsellors of James advised that this flight was sufficient to attain the Earls with treason, and to "escheat" (legally forfeit) their lands to the Crown! Thus, millions of Irish acres became the personal property of the King. In order to secure the tranquillity of that part of his domains, he proceeded, under further counsel, to "transplant" these lands. That is, he issued patents of huge areas to certain Gentlemen, Clergymen, and titled persons in England. They were, in turn, under the rules of the Plantation, to go to their estates in Ireland, take a number of men with them, settle upon the land, and build houses, manor houses, fortifications or "bawns," and take up allegiance to the Crown. Periodic musters of the tenants and their arms (a supply of which the Undertakers must bring) resulted in the "Muster Rolls," from which we quoted. Six counties - Armagh, Down, Antrim, Fermanagh, Tyrone & Londonderry, were included in the escheated estates of the former Earls of Tyrone & Tyrconnel. An about equal number of Scottish and British families went over and settled this area. These six counties, formed by the Plantation, are now known as "Ulster," and still within the jurisdiction of England, and called "Northern Ireland," since the Treaty of 1921.

The following is a list of the 10 undertakers' names, who settled Oneiland Precinct (or Barony), per O'Hart's "Irish Pedigrees," Vol. 2, p. 510. Rev. Richard Rolleston, Francis Sacheverell, Esq., John Brownlow, Rev. James Matchett, William Powell, Esq., Joan Dillon, Esq., William Brownlow, Gent., (son of John), William Stanhove, Joan Heron, Gent., and Sir Anthony Cope, Knight.

Nicholas Pynnar was sent over, in 1619, to make a survey to see how the Plantation was being effected. Rev. George Hill, in his "The Plantation of Ulster," quotes Pynnar. We quote Hill, page 558:

"CLXII. 2,000 acres... William Powell was the first Patentee. Mr. Obbyns hath 2,000 acres, called Bellevevoran. Upon this there is built a Bawne of Sodds, with a Pallizado upon it of boards, ditched about. Within this there is a good fair House of Brick and Lime, himself dwelling thereon; near to this he hath built four Houses, inhabited with English families. I find planted and estated on this Land, of British Tenants... Freeholders, 5. Viz: 3 having 120 acres each, 2 having 100 acres each, Lessees for years, 15. Viz: 4 having 100 acres, 2 having 60 acres, 3 having 60 acres, 2 having 40 acres, 1 having 30 acres, and 3 having 100 acres jointly. These 20 Tenants, with their Undertenants, are able to make forty Men with Arms." (Footnote states "Such was the original settlement of the Protestant colony of Portadown.") We now quote Hill, (p. 559) continuing:

"CLXIV. 3,000 Acres... The Lord Say was first Patentee. Mr. Cope hath 3,000 acres, called Derrycravy and Droaully. Upon this there is a Bawne of Lime and stone, 150 feet square, 14 feet high, with four Flankers; and in three of them he hath built very good Lodgings, which are three Storise high. There are also two Water Mills and one Wind Mill, and near to the Bawne (fortified enclosure) he had built 14 Houses of Timber, which are inhabited by English Families. I find planted and estated upon this Land, of British Tenants, ... Freeholders, 6. Viz: 1 having 200 acres; 3 having 120 acres each, 2 having 60 acres each. Lessees for years, 34, viz. 3 having 120 acres each; 4 having 100 acres each, 2 having 80 acres each." (Footnote 275 reads, in conclusion: "This was, for a considerable time, the best flourishing and the most defensible plantation in Ulster; but on the 23rd of May, 1643, Loughgall was burned in a battle fought by the Scottish general Monroe, with (against) Sir Phelim O'Neal and Owen Roe O'Neal." (O'Neill). History of Armagh, p. 637.)

Well and good, but this is not helping us to learn exactly when, and from where in England, Henry Hollinworth, father of Valentine, came! We have not, as yet, learned if the actual lease books for these estates survive. We did find that the Cope Family Papers, probably of great genealogical value, were all recently consigned to destruction, before they could be evaluated! Between the time (1619) of the above survey, and the year 1631, much had happened in the plantation to change the face of things. Sir Anthony Cope was dead. Michael Obbyns ("Mr. Obbins" of the Muster) had been in great financial difficulty, resulting in loss of part of his property, and had also died. So, we find Richard Cope, Esq., son of the said Sir Anthony Cope, Kt., in possession of a part of 2,000 acres, jointly with "Mr. Obbins," whose widow and son had been re-granted 620 acres of land. Within the sanctuary of one or the other of these men's estates, dwelt our subject - "Henry Hollinworth." And in the records (?) of these estates may lurk the answer to our century long search, begun before 1869, by Dr. John Neill in Baltimore, Maryland, U.S.A., continued by William B. Hollingsworth of Baltimore, and by Joseph Adjer Stewart, Sr., of Louisville, Kentucky, U.S.A. and we hope, to be completed, by the columns of the "Hollingsworth Register."

The Cope family came from Hanwell, Oxfordshire, England. Sir Anthony was High Sheriff of Oxon in the reign of Elizabeth. We don't have the slightest clue to the English home of the Obbyns family. An expensive search of many records, using the services of a professional record searcher, in England and Ireland, is necessary. Anyone wishing to contribute financially toward this project may contact the editor. Once the Parish of origin of Henry Hollinworth is located - assuming that it can be - it is possible that many generations will be added to the lineage book of Valentine Hollingsworth. Possibly the proof of the connection between him and the Hollingsworth family of Mottram-in-Longden:le can be found.

Moved later to Copiah, finally to Newton County, Mississippi in 1834. Had brother, Jacob, born 1774, North Carolina, died in Madison county, Miss., after 1850. Had son Isaac Hollingsworth, Jr., born 1800 in Georgia; married in 1826, Celia Smith (a cousin?) and had 12 children; moved to Madison Co., Miss. after 1840. Primitive Baptists. All information welcome!

If you want the editor to do genealogical research on other lines, or to concentrate on your one particular Hollingsworth-Hollingsworth line, it will be necessary for you to hire him at his regular fee as a professional genealogical agent. Write for information, enclosing postage for reply. There are thousands of sources in several large libraries, available here, and he knows how to use them.

A Letter to the Editor -

"SOCIETY OF AUSTRALIAN GENEALOGISTS

"History House, 8, Young Street, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia.

"Dear Mr. Hollingsworth,

29, July 1965

"In an endeavour to extricate you from the horns of your Archival Dilemma, may I first advise you that the primary source of Australian history is the Mitchell Library in Sydney, that there are State Archives Offices in the capital city of each state of the Commonwealth, and a Commonwealth Archives Office in the Capital city of Australia, address in each instance, The Archivist, Canberra. As Canberra is comparatively new, and the other states were separated from the original colony, New South Wales, at varying dates, the basic foundation records of the colony were held in Sydney, and the State Archives Head is also Principal Librarian of the Public Library of N.S.W. and of the Mitchell Library (of Australians). Address. Principal Librarian, Mitchell Library, Sydney, N.S.W. as well as this society, the Genealogical Society of Victoria (Hon. Secretary. Miss N. McHaffie, 577 Glenferrie Road, Hawthorn, Victoria) is busily engaged in collecting records of the type you seek. To my knowledge there are NO professional searchers in N.S. Wales who specialize in genealogical research, but the Mitchell Library will recommend routine record searchers on request. We have, in the past, undertaken record-searches in libraries other than our own, but the present popularity of family history prevents us from doing more than offer the available information from our own indexes.
